ROTARY SELECTS DUKE

John J. McDonald to Represent Bay St. Louis as Duke At Coast-Wide Biloxi Carnival

At the regular weekly supper held by the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club Wednesday evening, John J. McDonald was the unanimous choice of the clubs to represent Bay St. Louis as duke at the Coast-wide Carnival to be held at Biloxi, February 28.

Bay St. Louis, for the first time, officially participates in the Biloxi Carnival, and will have the usual representative in the parade and also at the royal court. This was made possible through the offices of the Rotary Club, active and up-doing all the time.

Duke McDonald will arrive in Biloxi on the afternoon of the Mardi Gras Day with the King and party on board the royal yacht and at once participate in the parade and also in the royal dinner given at Hotel Biloxi after the street pageant. Again at night there will be another parade followed by the usual ball.

E. A. Lang, well-known insurance man, and member of Pass Christian Rotary Club, was selected as Duke of Pass Christian this week. Every coast city is to be represented, principally through Rotary.

It is expected many Bay St. Louisians will participate in the Mardi Gras fete at Biloxi.

Board of Supervisors In Session This Week For Month of February

Board of Supervisors of Hancock for month of February has been in session Monday and Tuesday and adjourned to meet again today (Friday) while awaiting on investigations, reports and other matters to be discussed and possibly disposed of.

The Board members also made many happy this week, authorizing the payment, beginning Wednesday of an accumulation of two months, awaiting funds accumulating from tax-payments. The list of bills approved and ordered paid is quite lengthy, part of which appears as the board minutes and published elsewhere in this issue.

A call at the Clerk's office Wednesday afternoon found his office crowded with callers for the warrants. Clerk Favre and his immediate assistant, Warren Carver were promptly serving the many and expediting matters with their usual promptness.

VALENTINE.

I crave no cup of witching wine
To pledge my pretty Valentine.
My heart itself shall be the cup
And fondest love shall fill it up.

I'll Quaff to her this brimming bowl
With all my warmth of mind and soul;
And when my toast her spirit stirs,
She'll thrill my heart with wine of hers.

My Valentine is fair to see
And glad and young and gay is she.
Her eyes are big and bright and blue,
Her dainty lips as sweet as dew.

Her voice is like a scented breeze,
Her motions graceful as a tree's;
And fairy fingers, manifold
Have spun her hair of softest gold.

My Valentine is lithe of limb,
A thing of beauty, tall and trim.
She wears upon her smiling face
A gift from every elf and grace.

And back of all her body's pride,
Ten thousand other charms abide.
By every test of mainhood,
My heart proclaims her dear and good.

When grim and gusty Winter goes,
And Spring shall bring its breath of rose,
When April glorifies the earth
And June shall bring each heart with mirth.

I'll build a cottage, sweet and small
With love for floor and roof and wall,
And I shall make it all so fine
To please my pretty Valentine.

Then she and I shall enter there,
As happy and as proud a pair
As earth itself has ever known,
My Valentine and I alone.

Blue Mountain, Miss.

MISSISSIPPI'S HIGH COURT TO TAKE UP MARSHALL'S PLEA

Bay St. Louis Attorney Seeks Reinstatement To State Bar.

A press message from Jackson during the early part of the week says that "before Mississippi supreme court this week will come the petition of Carl Marshall, Bay St. Louis attorney, seeking reinstatement to the state bar, from which he was ousted more than a year ago following disclosure of the '$80,000 Warrentie scandal.'"

Court attaches expressed belief date for submission of arguments on the reinstatement petition would be set for late March.

Little more than a year ago Marshall was disbarred by the high court following complaint of the State Bar Association that he was implicated in the scandal, in which it was charged that the Warren Brothers Roads Company of Boston distributed $80,000 in settlement of a pending anti-trust action.

The Supreme Court held Marshall to be guilty of technical blackmail for refusal to definitely account for $62,000 of the $80,000 he admitted having knowledge of.

Sentences Affirmed.
The coast attorney's first step toward reinstatement came last fall. It was under an act of the Legislature reorganizing the Bar Association and making it possible for the petition received favorable action from Chancellor D. M. Russell of Harrison county, the state bar appealed to the supreme court that the disbarment be permitted to stand on grounds that Marshall had not shown himself to be "duly penitent."

Woman Lighthouse Keeper Succumbs

Miss Miranda Youngmans, for many years keeper of the Biloxi lighthouse, and well known in Biloxi and along the Mississippi coast, died at her home on Porter avenue, Sunday morning. Although Miss Youngmans had been ill for some time her death was untimely, causing a distinct shock to her relatives and numerous friends.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Perry Youngmans, her mother having been Maria Logan, of New Orleans, who moved to Biloxi in the early years of the city. Her father was custodian for the United States government property in this district, including the Biloxi lighthouse, of which he had charge for a number of years. Deceased leaves a brother, E. J. Youngmans; a cousin, Miss Edna Holley, and other relatives. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon with interment in the Biloxi cemetery and funeral services were conducted by the Rev. E. A. De Miller, rector of the Church of the Redeemer.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Bay Central School will celebrate Founders' Day at their next meeting on Tuesday, February 14, at 3 P. M., in the Central School auditorium. The "National Congress of Mothers" was founded on February 17, 1897 at Washington D. C. by Mrs. Alice McLeellan Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst. Since 1924 it has been known as the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

This observance of Founders' Day, held every February by all Parent-Teachers' Associations, has grown steadily in popularity and we do well to honor those far-seeing founders of such a great movement.

The program Tuesday will include a pretty and original ceremony and the lighting of thirty-six candles on a huge birthday cake. All members and their friends and all officers, past and present, are urged to attend. Let this article in The Echo be your invitation.

City Com. H. G. Perkins Resigns Coach Position St. Stanislaus College

Holding on to the basketball set up at S. S. C. during January (at night) in order to complete training, City Commissioner H. Grady Perkins has resigned his position as coach and both faculty and student body regret his leaving-taking. But this was necessary since no public officer can hold a position and also exists a requirement of the State Athletic Association that a coach must be a full time teacher as well.

Bro. Casimir, athletic director, has taken over the basketball team for the remainder of the season.
Perkins succeeded Commagere at Stanislaus and proved himself of thorough commendation which he always received. He made good as coach and is certainly making good as city commissioner. The college's loss is the city's gain.

Number Prominent Women Will Play For "Sweet Charity's" Sake.

"Mammy Minstrels," mentioned in the columns for the past weeks, and duly anticipated will take place at the Convent Gym, on next Thursday evening, February 16, and every indication points to a most successful realization.

The cast was published in the columns of The Echo recently and the personnel easily adds prestige to the affair.

It will be remembered the "Mammy Minstrels," which means an All-women cast, is to be presented for no worthy cause than that of the charity fund of St. Margaret's Daughters of Bay St. Louis, whose vast and worthy charities were explained in brief measure, through the lines of a first-page appeal, which appeared in last week's issue of The Echo.

Tickets are now on sale for the Mammy Minstrel. Thursday of next week, at Convent Gym. Attend an evening of pleasure and help a worthy cause.

Mrs. McDonald is prominently connected with local and State work of the kind and her visit was one of more than ordinary interest at the different places visited while away.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

FORTY HOURS DEVOTION

Preparations for the Forty Hours Devotion occupied the greater part of the Sodality meeting last Thursday. The origin of this devotion; its meaning, the rich indulgences to be gained by taking part in it, etc; all this was explained and discussed by the Sodality. The girls were urged to avail themselves of this great time of blessing which comes but once a year. Each girl was then allotted an hour during which she was to keep guard before the Blessed Sacrament and the meeting adjourned with a final prayer.

S. J. A. PUPILS SING HIGH MASS

The ten o'clock Mass Sunday which marked the opening of the Forty Hours Devotion was sung by the pupils of S. J. A. from the fifth grade through the High School. A new Mass was attempted for this occasion and the girls sang it very creditably. The "Pange Lingua" and the "Litanies of the Saints" were also chanted by the pupils.

Children of Mary Keep Continuous Guard During Forty Hours

True to their word the Children of Mary kept an almost continuous guard in silent adoration before the Blessed Sacrament from Sunday after Mass to the closing of the Forty Hours Tuesday night. Seldom was it that the four "Prie Dieu's" placed for the use of the Sodality in front of the Communion rail were empty of occupants. Continuously, the Sodality wearing white veils, replaced each other to hold an hour's converse with their Eucharistic King. All too quickly did the three days pass and none so deeply regret the end of the Forty Hours as do the Children of Mary.

REPORT OF EMERGENCY HOSPITAL

Mrs. C. E. Craft, Superintendent, Files Report of Work for Month of January.

Report of the King's Daughters and Sons Hospital, Bay St. Louis, for January, as presented by Mrs. C. E. Craft, superintendent, is interesting. It tells of the work accomplished by the hospital for a 31-day period, showing cash receipts of $46.75 and total spent for charity patients over the same period, $85.00, thus showing marked deficit.

Following is taken from the official report: Number of patients treated 15. Charity patients, 10. Charity days 34. Pay patients days, 5. Pay days 21. Hospital days 55.

The deficit, of course is borne by the King's Daughters organization, with not only a depleted treasury, but the books in the red.

Hence, to help meet the deficit there will be a keno party given at Martin's Night Club on the night of Friday, February 24, and it is expected there will be a general response.

Mrs. E. J. Leonhard, president, made the announcement this week, coming from the executive board. The hospital dispenses a great deal of charity work, healing the sick and other work, and serves as a means of contributing to a worthy cause by those so inclined.

All work by the King's Daughters is always accomplished in His Name.

WHO SAID IT?

"Have you heard the latest gossip. It's quite a nice bit—I'll tell you, but you mustn't tell. Don't even whisper it." Who said it? Do you know?

"What's the matter with our town. There's nothing here to buy. No stores, worth while, to shop in—There's no use even to try." Who said it? Do you know?

"We can't have any fun at all. There's simply no place to go. Just stand around and talk all day. Everything's so blooming slow." Who said it? Do you know?

"She's a very good little woman. But she wears such funny clothes—She isn't one bit stylish. As every body knows." Who said it? Do you know?

"He's a jolly good old fellow—But now, they do say, He owes dollars, but the hundred, And simply will not pay." Who said it? Do you know?

"Yes, they say the family's destitute—As poor as they can be, But they don't belong to my church. So what is that to me." Who said it? Do you know?

"And so they knock everybody, and they knock everything—And they keep on knocking and knocking—Take care lest the hammer slip sometime, And the result to them will be shocking."

TO CELEBRATE "SHORT-CUT" CONSTRUCTION.

WITH every preparation in progress and every prospect favorable, celebration of beginning of the work of construction of the Louisiana-Mississippi Shortcut there is every indication that February 22 is going to be a big day for Bay St. Louis and the Mississippi Gulf Coast as well as New Orleans and vicinity, especially since interest in the Shortcut is so widespread.

Endorsed by the Bay St. Louis Board of City Commissioners and Hancock County Board of Supervisors, there is ample official flavor to give that auspice so necessary to an affair expressing our progress and future. Good roads and shortcuts annihilate distance. Hence by this enterprise and its completion New Orleans in time will be closer to the Gulf Coast, and equally as well vice versa, and travel between two points as the big city and the Gulf Coast will be stimulated to such extent that not only will people of both territories become better acquainted and every interest become more active, but there will be established perhaps a better business and social understanding, and there will be further established ties and relationship that will build for the future.

New Orleans is responding to this celebration in Bay St. Louis, February 22, sending out as many special excursion trains as will be possible, a round trip fare of $1.25 announced. New Orleans and Louisiana is responding to our celebration.

Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce is active in the matter.

WE NEED A NAVY.

THE average American probably gives little thought to the importance of a navy. Many of us live away from the coast and know little or nothing about the sea and do not realize the vast importance of ships in modern life, or the value of foreign trade to a nation such as our own.

However, we should be able to read history, which teaches that a nation without the means of defense does not long continue to possess anything worth defending. For many years there was a great hue and cry in the United States for a navy, "equal to England's." Now, by treaty we have fixed ratios of naval strength with Great Britain and Japan, but do we want it, and do we get it?

The answer is "we do not." Japan's navy, systematically built and with a purpose, no doubt, is steadily increasing, being kept to treaty strength. The British navy, to all intents, is about what Great Britain insisted upon. The American navy, upon the testimony of naval officials, is about to become inferior to Japan's unless some program of shipbuilding is laid down and stuck to.

One of the troubles with getting an adequate navy for this country is the anxiety of our people to avoid what they consider useless extravagance. The idea is all right, but in the present condition of world affairs this nation needs a navy as much as a city needs a fire department, and it should be maintained.

TO SELL, WE MUST BUY.

THE Echo is anxious to build up the welfare of the people of this nation, and would not willingly trade its advantages for the civilization of other lands.

We say this by preface to further remarks upon the 'Buy America' campaign now being waged aggressively in this country. In many respects, the slogan is sound, but in final analysis, it is entirely misleading.

The farmer, for example, who has wheat or cotton to sell abroad, would suffer considerably if foreign nations followed such an example and bought everything from their own land. International trade would shrink to nothing as soon as the doctrine became generally established.

There is no magic in the name "United States" to cause foreign peoples to be anxious about our welfare, or to trade with us to their own disadvantage. Unless there is mutuality, and joint advantages, to be found in every commercial interchange between nations, there will be little trading done.

The lesson of commerce is that buying and selling is barter, whether done by direct swapping or indirect settlement in currencies. We cannot sell to the nations if we do not buy something from them. Unless we are willing to buy from them we will lose them as customers.

FARM RELIEF DELAYED.

PRESENT prospects for farm relief legislation at the session of Congress now convened are not hopeful.

The pressure of appropriation bills and the expectancy of a veto from President Hoover tend to dampen the ardor of the advocates of immediate legislation.

The Echo cannot solve the problem, but it can say that those responsible for legislation will do well to give it their best efforts. Conceivably, these may not succeed, but there is an increasing tamper on the part of agriculturists to resort to extra-legal methods of meeting the situation.

So far as we can calculate there have been 6,739,256,104 schemes to bring back prosperity.

WOMAN SHERIFF CANDIDATE.

MRS. Cleve Huggins, wife of Sheriff Huggins of Harrison county who recently passed away while on the threshold of the second year of his four-year term, appointed by Gov. Comer until a special election may be held to fill the full term, is a candidate for the office.

Mrs. Huggins is also opposed in the race by the deputy sheriff who served with her husband. Resigning after his chief's death and making formal announcement of his candidacy subsequently.

While not a matter for this county or The Echo to discuss, the hope is expressed, and indications point that way, that Mrs. Huggins will be elected to succeed her husband.

Not only for sentimental reason, but because she should follow in her husband's footsteps, and that she is a widow and mother of two small children, but also for the practical reason that she is fully capable.

As sheriff pro tempore she is already on the job and is actively engaged in the office each day. Friends of her husband, and they were many over Harrison county; friends of her own and the public generally have indicated that Mrs. Huggins majority in the race will be overwhelming, according to authentic reports that have reached The Echo.

The following from a Gulfport newspaper is indicative of the kind sheriff Mrs. Huggins is making, personally attending to detail and making sure that nothing is neglected:

"Mrs. Cleve Huggins, Harrison county's woman sheriff paid an inspection visit to the county jail at Gulfport Tuesday and very opportunely chose the noon hour in order that she might witness the feeding of the prisoners and know just what kind of food they were being served.

In addition to seeing the food that was being carried to the cell inmates, Mrs. Huggins doffed her hat and coat and ate her noonday meal at county bastille, thus getting first hand evidence of just the sort of fare that those incarcerated behind prison bars are served.

"As in other official duties of the sheriff's office, the woman sheriff exhibited no timidity in going about the jail inspection and asked the jailer, Chas. Foretich, numerous questions regarding the behavior and attitude of the approximately 45 prisoners who are in the jail."

Maybe a tax on suggested remedies would balance the budget.

CHURCH AND BUSINESS.

ALONG with the many elements of our every day pursuit in life nothing seems to have escaped the tenseness of the times. Not even the churches. They, too, in turn, are bound to be affected. Their income has suffered along with other lines of endeavor, for, the fact must be recognized, there is a business side to the church and its work. People deprived of their normal revenues or daily earnings have suffered under the head of the unemployed possibly to the greatest degree. It is from this class much of church contributions must come.

BUT, while on this subject, it is apparent that the church has little or no business side. We are not permitted, perhaps, to think of things spiritual in terms of money and business. But nevertheless, if the church is to continue, to meet its obligations, pay its pastors, etc., there must be a business side to the church. One could hardly expect to continue any organized body without funds for proper administration.

LAX business methods are perhaps only too often responsible for the paucity of monies for the church. A preacher may become an eminent speaker, an indefatigable worker in the Master's Vineyard; he may thrill his congregation on Sundays, and so on; He may be "God's Good Man," but the fact that the church has no business set-up, a book-keeper, a collector, an audit every year by C. A. and a final reconciliation of all funds, debts and credits, is largely responsible for the deplorable condition of many a church's finances. We may be zealous, our religious fervor to the accepted extent, but we, too, must recognize the business side of the church. This article, however, is not so much an indictment to the derelict parishioner in this instance, but with the church in mind. In too many instances—not all—there is no practical side. The word of God will never perish, but the material side of the church suffers only too often unnecessarily.

Personally, it will be no insult to us if someone buys in and insists upon paying in advance for advertising or subscriptions.

LET'S NOT PUNISH CHILDREN.

FROM all states come insistent demand for reduction of governmental expenses, with a continued drive on the funds being used for the education of our children.

The Echo is not so foolish as to believe that economies cannot be effected in our school systems without seriously impairing the educational processes of children. However, it has little sympathy with the adult who would carry the drive for economy to the point of really handicapping the future of present day school pupils.

As far as we know few children have been responsible for the plight in which the grown-ups find themselves. The children did not vote bonds, or spend money like sailors during extravagant years. They had no voice in government, which, if bungled, has been the work of adults. Why make them pay any great penalty?

The people of the United States have been noted for their faith in the values to be obtained from the education of all children. Despite some foolish developments that faith is well placed. It is a bedrock upon which to build our future civilization and life, and men and women should, if necessary, carry additional burdens for the benefit of the public schools.

The United States may not have the role but with free flour, free cloth and unemployment labor going the rounds, it might be the same.

SAUNTERINGS.

From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(For the Sea Coast Echo)

STATION L O V E, your gay-bold announcer, Dan Cupid coming on the air pretty pronto. February 14th., to be exact. Please stand by—and hold everything.

If you're one of those individuals with a heart steeled against the antics of this frisky little chap, whose attire resembles an advance agent for some nudist colony, here's a bit of warning:

Keyhole snooping revealed the fact that diminutive Danny has his arrow points sharpened to a never-so-keen point, and has a brand new, triple force bow string to boot. So you had better contact some racketeer 'big shot,' and borrow his 'iron vest' if you're just plum determined against being somebody's Valentine—Saffey First.

On the other hand, we know that lots of sweet misses are going to be somebody's Valentine when they receive those big, red, heart-shaped boxes of candy. And those tender sentimental cards with arrow-pierced hearts, just bleeding with devotion and pleadings to "Be My Valentine," that are offered for sale in the stores.

Guided by casual observation as we saunter hither and yon, we wonder how Sanor Cupid is going to solve a problem that has us 'sorta perplexed.'

Back in the days when Pa and Ma reached the Bean and Sunday-Best-Girl age, well, Ma was the only girl Pa had. And Ma wouldn't even make googoo eyes at any other boy but Pa—even if the others did have a slicker team of horses, or a fancier surrey—No, suh.

HOW TIMES HAVE CHANGED.

BUT times have changed. Its all different now. Most modern Priscillas have a score of boy friends on the string. And it makes their dainty hearts go all aflutter to even try and pick a favorite. You see Jack has such 'gorgeous' wavy hair. Bill has such a 'divine' car. Sam is such a 'cute' dancer, etc., etc., on down the line.

And as for these modern Don Juans: They have so many 'sweeties,' 'fems,' or what have you, that it takes a bookkeeping system to keep up with their names, dates and phone numbers.

After all, Cupid, old top, it seems that your conventional bow and arrow is out of date. The only way you can compete with our younger set is to meet force with force. Why not get yourself a machine gun? 'Cause modern 'Flaming Youth' has changed your old slogan, "Be My Valentine" to "Be My Valentines."—and how.

GOOD-BYE TO THE OLD FAVORITES.

THE sweep of modern fads and ideas has not bothered comical Valentines.

Gisting through a collection at the friendly corner drug store, we find a complete selection of these vivid-hued caricatures. Nearly all trades and professions are represented to satisfy the whim of the one who wishes to take advantage of the freedom of harmless slander that these grotesque comical sheets afford.

Old favorites include the doctor with his imaginary ills, oversized pills and bills. The barber and his incessant line of chatter. The saxophone player, the druggist, the policeman, twiddling his thumbs, while bandits rob the bank across the street.

IT'S UP TO THE MINUTE—YOU CERTAINLY MISS IT.

THE well-known tin horn politician is represented in gaudy dress, and pockets bulging with ill-gotten gains. The neighborhood gossip and prohibition snooper comes in for a lot of unmerciful panning. The gum chewing stenographer and telephone girl are not overlooked. One does not find the typical old maid in the list—anyway she has turned bachelor girl nowadays.

New comers in the comical valentine field are radio announcers and performers. Aviation record flight makers, stock market gamblers and former aristocrats now depression victims are also represented. Will someone kindly place Technocracy and its experts on next year's list? Maybe we will understand what it is all about by then.

BETTER WAIT AND SEE—THEN?

PLUM and pear trees are in blossom around San Antonio at this time. But we hesitate to shout "Spring is here." Last season we had a snow storm late in March. Better wait and see what the weather man has up his sleeve before we crow too loudly. Old timers claim the mesquite trees' new coat of leaves are a true sign that destructive frosts are over for the season. These trees are still quite barren.

RELIEF TO AUTO OWNERS.

TEXAS motorists have been granted until April, to purchase 1933 automobile license plates, and there will be no additional fees added. This relief measure for the car owners was promptly passed by the Texas Legislature, carrying a two-thirds majority in each house, and became effective immediately upon the Governor's signature.

CAMP GROUND TAXES.

(Pascagoula Chronicle)

JUST how much is "a reasonable quantity of land" and just what and how many activities not usually regarded as necessary to church administration may a religious organization maintain tax-free may become an interesting question since the City of Biloxi placed an assessment of $50,000 on the Seashore Campgrounds.

The Seashore Methodist Assembly, a corporation existing under the auspices of the Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church, holds title to the property. The corporation doesn't think it should pay anything to the City of Biloxi in the way of taxes, claiming exemption under the state statutes, and has filed a suit in the chancery court to enjoin the city officials from collecting the tax. It seems that the county authorities have made to attempt to assess the property.

We learn from newspaper accounts that the municipal authorities have offered to exempt some of the property, but contend that a portion of the fine tract should be on the tax rolls. There are cottages, camps, dormitories, kitchens, a dining room, a grocery store, tennis court and other services and conveniences on the campgrounds; and, while we are not sure, the Biloxi taxing authorities are probably concerned only with those operations which encroach upon legitimate business which does pay a tax.

We would not attempt to discuss the merits of the suit; however, we vouchsafe the opinion that if commercial pursuits are carried on in competition with business firms which are taxed, then the city has acted in the best interest of the public. We often have thought that the Seashore Campgrounds property hasn't had its just due. Owned by three groups who cannot agree on its use or disposition the beautiful tract lies on one of the most prominent boulevards in the South. The motley array of buildings add nothing to the Coast from an architectural standpoint. One wonders why they do not burn, so combustible they appear.

Many there are who wish that some beautiful church school, assembly, chalet or other institution would arise amidst the ancient live oaks that guard the lovely tract overlooking the Mississippi Sound—something that would add to the intellectual and architectural pride of the South.

THIS WOMAN LOST 35 POUNDS OF FAT

Miss M. Katner of Brooklyn, N. Y. writes: "Have used Kruschen for the past 4 months and have not only lost 35 pounds but feel so much better in every way." Even for people who don't care to reduce, Kruschen is wonderful to keep the system healthy. I being a nurse should know for I've tried so many things but only Kruschen answered all purposes." (May 12, 1932.)

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning—before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at any drugstore in America. If not, write to Kruschen, Ltd., London, England—money back.

The Child Reader

MARJORIE BARROWS
Editor, Child Life Magazine.

Marjorie Barrows

I met Bill's father today. "Bill's six years old," he said. "He's a hard-headed young man and he reads fairy tales with a withering contempt. He likes real stories. He likes simple books about how things happen. Are there any new books that will fit Bill?" I gave him the names of several new ones, for there are lots of Bills in many authors are writing just the sort of books they like.

Real Adventure Best.
If your Bill doesn't take to fairy tales, to legends, to fables, don't force them on him. Offer him instead Charlotte Kuh's delightful "A Train, A Boat, and an Island"—the story of a real family's real trip to Bermuda. Offer him Helius Washburne's fascinating "Letters to Channy"—a real mother's letters of a trip around the world written for her own little boy back home. Offer him "The Pilgrim's Party" or "The Cruise of Mr. Christopher Columbus" by Sadybeth and Anson Lowitz, two humorous and very interesting picture books that acquaint younger readers with stirring history.

Perhaps Bill wants to know more about motormen and firemen and what they really do. Mrs. Kuh's books for small children will help him out there. Perhaps he would like "How It All Began," a book that is delightfully written and illustrated by Janet Smalley. It will tell a real primitive man watched the lightning and found he, too, could make fire by twirling two sticks around together. Later man found other ways of heating and lighting and at last we got our matches, gas, oil and electricity. The book goes on, in the simplest fashion, to show the beginnings of messages, of travel, clothing, houses. It is a thrilling sort of real fairy tale that particularly appeals to boys like Bill.

Travel Stories Are Good.
What happens to a real letter after it gets posted may also interest some of our very youngest readers. William Siegel, a Russian artist, tells a simple story about that in "Around the World in a Mailbag." Bob and Betty's letter to their father doesn't reach him in San Francisco. So it is forwarded to China, Russia, France, and even to Egypt. But though the various postmen do their best, the letter does not finally reach him until he is back in New York again. The pictures make this book especially attractive.

Here are just a few of the new books for fairy-tale-strikers. Many more are to be found in the libraries and bookstores. Just exactly the book your Bill is looking for is waiting for him there. And it is just the right book for him at the present time.

Take him along and let him help find it!

OF SOCIAL INTEREST

MRS. R. N. BLAIZE ENTERTAINS MANY GUESTS AT AFTERNOON BRIDGE.

MRS. R. N. Blaize was hostess Wednesday afternoon to one of the larger parties of the season, entertained at bridge to friends from Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian.

Red and green were the predominating colors, red japonicas used in tasty profusion, weaving a combination and color into a phase of artistry.

Mrs. Blaize had as her guests for the memorable afternoon Mrs. M. Knott, Mrs. Phil St. Amber, Mrs. J. C. Liversege, Miss Jane Lang, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Miss Evaline Lacoste, Mrs. J. C. Buckley, Mrs. John W. Bryan, Mrs. Leo E. Kenney, Mrs. J. C. Ryland, Mrs. Hugh P. Burbank, Mrs. Robert L. Genin, Mrs. Owen Crawford, Miss Louise Crawford, Miss Annie Dale Crawford, Mrs. George E. Pitcher, Miss V. Gex, Mrs. Sidney W. Prague, Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, Mrs. W. A. Staehle, Mrs. R. de Montluzin, Mrs. Harry Daponte, Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey, Mrs. W. J. Kidd, Mrs. John A. Green, Mrs. Milton Phillips, Mrs. Kenneth W. Peeper and others.

High scores and other prize winners included: Miss V. Gex, bridge set; Mrs. L. E. Kenney, couch pillow; Miss Louise Crawford, low score, clothes brush; Mrs. Milton Phillips, cut prize, blue vase. Miss Jane Lang of Pass Christian, grand slam prize, satin couch pillow.

A delectable party menu was daintily served during the afternoon hour.

MRS. JOHN T. NIX GIVES PARTY AT HOME ON WAVELAND BEACH.
Mrs. John T. Nix was hostess to an afternoon bridge party Saturday to a number of guests who enjoyed the hospitality of this generous hostess.

The new home interior was decorated with cut flowers and the Valentine motif as carried out to the most minute detail.

Enjoying this delightful afternoon were Mrs. Edw. C. Carriere, Mrs. George E. Pitcher, Mrs. George R. Rea, Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey, Mrs. Joseph J. Grevenberg, Mrs. Charles G. Moreau, Mrs. John W. Bryan, Mrs. Leo E. Kenney, Mrs. Harry C. Glover, Mrs. G. E. Ferchaud, Miss Vicky Gex, Miss Margaret Green, Mrs. Hugh P. Burbank, Mrs. S. A. Power, Mrs. J. C. Buckley, Miss Emma Edwards.

Capturing the trophies of the afternoon Mrs. H. P. Burbank listed first, a house plant water sprinkler; Miss V. Gex a hand-embroidered pillow slip; Mrs. J. J. Grevenberg, Italian cut-work bridge set; Mrs. Edw. C. Carriere, cut prize, one dozen linen embroidered cocktail set.

The prizes were of unusual selection and taste and were well worth while striving for.

IN COMPLIMENT TO MRS. E. J. LEONHARD.
Mrs. E. J. Leonhard, district deputy grand matron, Eastern Star, and local executive for King's Daughters, was the recipient of a pleasant and complete surprise Monday night at her home on North Beach Boulevard when a number of her close friends, attired in strict 'tacky' appeared at her home and carried with them an abundance of varied refreshment. Mrs. Leonhard was completely surprised and expressed her pleasure as such.

Mrs. Leonhard had been away a while and recovered from an illness, the affair was planned as a "cheer-up party," which effect was successful, although Mrs. Leonhard is ever a cheerful and optimistic spirit.

The 'tacky' costumes were rated screamingly-funny. Where such costumes and make-ups were resurrected from was the wonderment of the evening. It would have been difficult to select the most 'tackiest.' An evening of joy unconfined but mildly expresses the joy and merriment.

INFORMAL SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY.
Mrs. J. J. Grevenberg, residing in Court street, was agreeably surprised Tuesday morning when a number of her most intimate friends met at the home of Mrs. Emile J. Gex, adjoining, and presented her with a beautiful walnut coffee table, topped with a full sized glass tray.

Mrs. Gex served as hostess and suitable refreshments served. The guests spent the morning until noon playing bridge. Mrs. Grevenberg was most agreeably surprised and expressed her appreciation of this manifestation of friendship and thoughtfulness.

MRS. W. J. KIDD HAS AFTERNOON PARTY.
Mrs. W. J. Kidd one of the popular hostesses, entertained a delightful party of friends at her home in Carroll avenue last week-end, and which proved another of the many more delightful parties of the immediate past season.

High scores, and gifts, followed. Mrs. R. N. Blaize, ash trays; Mrs. S. A. Power, set of embroidered dollies and Mrs. Henry W. Osoinach bisque basket.

Refreshment were served during the mid-afternoon hour.

DELIGHTFUL BIRTHDAY DINNER SATURDAY.

Miss Vicky Gex is entertaining at her mother's home, Thursday afternoon of this week at auction bridge, to which a number of friends have been invited.

Mrs. John W. Bryan's Valentine Bridge at Hotel Weston on the 14, next Tuesday, is widely anticipated.

Miss Laurin Gex will entertain at bridge on Wednesday afternoon, assisted by Mrs. H. Grady Perkins, her sister, and her mother, Mrs. E. J. Gex.

A number of friends of Mrs. Ralph Rugan a few days since assembled on the occasion of her birthday as a complete surprise and presented her as a further evidence of their friendship with an evening bag of newest design and tasty color. The afternoon was spent by this congenial number of close friends in playing the usual favorite pastime of bridge. Mrs. Rugan expressed much delight on the occasion of this happy event.

Mrs. John N. Stewart, of New Orleans and Bay St. Louis, will be hostess on Saturday noon of this week to a beautiful and extensive luncheon at "The Answer" in compliment to a bevy of charming friends from New Orleans who will make up trip especially to attend this event.

LAKESHORE

The Gulfview P. T. A. held its regular monthly meeting on the afternoon of February 1. Plans for holding the February P. T. A. convention at Lakeshore, should the members accept the invitation, were nearly completed.

Thanks to our good trustees who willingly supplemented enough from the special funds of the district to keep Gulfview School open through the nine months.

Gulfview school has just completed its fifth month of school. The following long roll seems to be the result of an announcement made last month by A. B. Dubuisson, principal, that all pupils making the honor roll for the remainder of the session would not be required to take final examinations.
